As you know, Electrolysis Training is in demand, and it's not only for people beginning new careers. This type of specialized education is even being sought by doctors and nurses looking for new ways to grow their practices... and their income. Just think, Electrolysis and medical aesthetic treatments exploded to over 8 billion dollars last year. And it's only going to get bigger.

“...The training received allows students to become specialists or general practitioners in electrolysis beauty...”

Everyone knows, electrolysis treatments can;

- permanently remove unwanted hair
- and more

Whether you go on to work with an existing practice, or start a business of your own, you'll be certified by the only school in Ontario recognized by all of the other provinces.

Yes, the only one.

Can you afford NOT to be apart of an 8 billion dollar industry?

Chandra Ellis has been an expert in the esthetic industry for over 26 years.

Earning her Makeup Artistry Diploma from the Eleanor Fulcher Self-Esteem and Modeling School in 1980, and furthering her studies in esthetics, she earned her Esthetics/Psychofigurism Diploma and Electrolysis Certificate from the Edith Serei School of Advanced Esthetics in 1982.

Chandra then went on to work as an electrologist for Dr. Fred Weksberg, M.D., F.R.C.P. and Dr. Ingrid Jarvis, M.D., F.R.C.P. in Toronto. For 10 years, Chandra treated women who suffered abnormal hair growth due to hormonal imbalance.

These OHIP approved clientele experienced above average results, making Chandra so highly recommended that when OHIP no longer covered electrolysis, Dr. Ingrid Jarvis referred her own clients to Chandra, and she is now well known as one of the area's top electrologists.

After moving to Innisfil and establishing The Spa at Lake Simcoe, Chandra received her Permanent Makeup and Corrective Cosmetics Certificate in 2005. Chandra is also a member of the Federation of Canadian Electrolysis Associations.

Now, Chandra has decided to turn her skills to teaching others with the Chandra Ellis School of Electrolysis.

Join this burgeoning industry and learn at the only facility in Ontario recognized by all the other provinces.
